

TEMPERATURE WILL BE SIGNIFICANTLY BELOW NORMAL

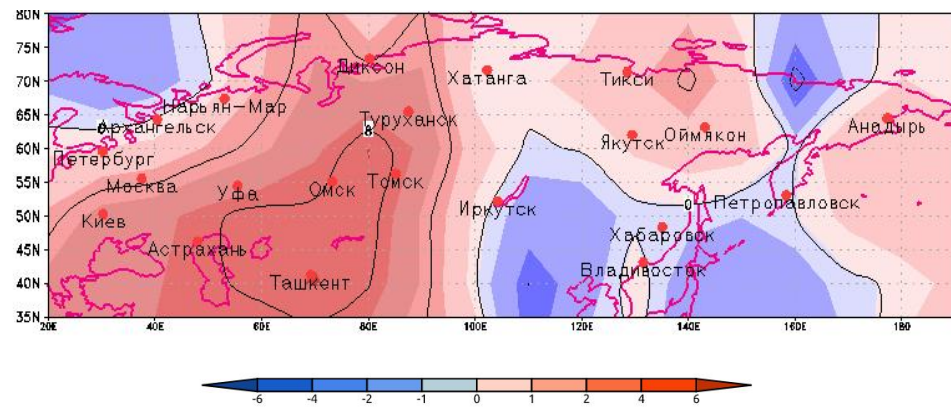

The new forecasts (from 8.02.24) for the next week (till 16.02.24) show a period with below normal temperature for the northern half of European Russia. The negative anomalies are forecasted mostly between 4 and 6°C.

Weekly deterministic forecasts of temperature anomalies
<https://meteoinfo.ru/prognoz-na-dekadu>

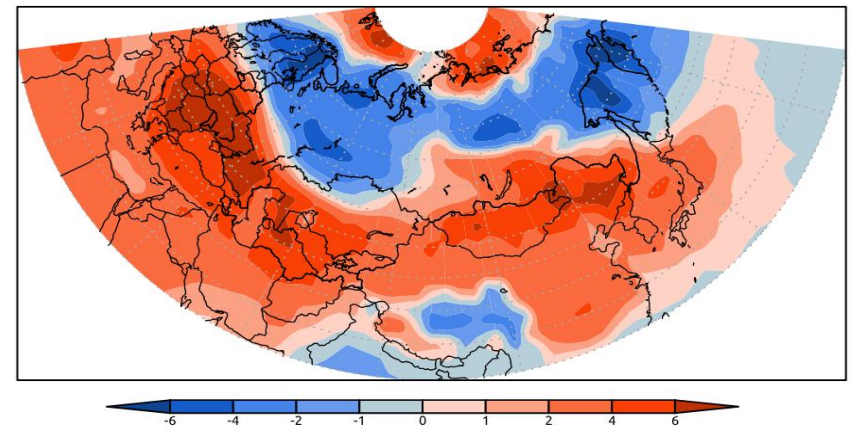

Forecast of T2m [K] anomalies. Models: HMC + MGO
Forecast period: 09.02-15.02.2024, week 1

Current temperature anomalies for 2-8.02.24.
Observations (236 stations)

Abnormal cold weather

Abnormal hot weather

At a period (from October to March) when the mean daily temperature anomalies are less than 7 °C during the 5 or more days.

At a period (from April to September) when the mean daily temperature anomalies are more than 7 °C during the 5 or more days.

The dangerous phenomena are the phenomena of weather which intensity, duration and time of occurrence represent threat of a security of people, as well as they can cause significant damage to branches of economy. The list of the typical dangerous phenomena which are used and specified by the local territorial hydrometeorological services of Russia Federation is located on the web site of the Hydrometeorological centre of Russia: <http://meteoinfo.ru/hazards-definitions>